INT. MEL'S GARAGE - NIGHT

The girls sit with their respective instruments, Jamie on acoustic guitar, Melanie behind a drum kit, and Renee at a piano.

The four are playing, but are not in sync. Melanie and Jamie are playing at different tempos and Renee is just trying to find one. Renee pounds at the keys, everything sounds like a cacophony.

MELANIE

Stop! Stop! This isn't working!

The rest of the girls stop playing.

MELANIE

You mind if I try something.

The three other girls murmur agreement.

MELANIE

If we're going to be making music, then we have got to find a hook, find a catchy melody, it's all about rhythms, notes, mathematical patterns...

JAMIE

Oh, no here she goes with that scientific method of hers again.

MELANIE

It's true, all music is made of notes and notes are put together in patterns, here listen.

Melanie plays a very familiar tune. She hums along as she plays.

MELANIE

A - F - G - D. Four chords, one of the biggest songs of all times.

She keeps playing. It's "Love Me Do."

She stops and starts a second song, humming along to it.

MELANIE

G - C - D - A.

RENEE

That sounds familiar.

CONTINUED:

MELANIE

(singing)

Baby love, my baby love, I need ya, ooh, ooh, I need you love...

The other girls smile as Melanie belts out the tune.

MELANIE

Well, then there's this.

She plays another familiar song.

MELANIE

D - C - A sharp - G. Four chords, one of the greatest themes ever.

(sings)

I've paid my dues, and my curtain calls...

The girls sing the chorus together, enthusiastically.

ALL THREE GIRLS

(singing)

We are the champions. We are the champions. No time for losers...

The three girls laugh and high five. Melanie stops the Queen song and goes onto another song. This one more intricate, her hands travel quickly up and down the keys and the music more dynamic.

JAMIE

Wow, who was that?

MELANIE

Tschicovsky. That's gonna take a few albums to get there.
